

JONATHAN M. SCHOFIELD
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer
Airbus Industrie of North America, Inc.

Jonathan M. “Jack” Schofield became Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Airbus Industrie of North America, Inc. in December 1992 after 30 years of service with United Technologies Corporation.

His last position at UTC was President of United Technologies International Corporation, a position he assumed in April 1989. Mr. Schofield previously served as Vice President, Marketing, for Pratt & Whitney’s Commercial Engine Business, and Vice President-International Programs for Pratt & Whitney’s Government Engine Business.

He joined Pratt & Whitney in 1963 as a member of the procurement staff where he subsequently became involved in international business. It was this involvement that relocated Mr. Schofield and his family to Brussels, Belgium in 1976. Subsequently, he assumed executive positions at Pratt & Whitney in West Palm Beach, Florida in 1979 and in East Hartford, Connecticut in 1986.

Mr. Schofield continues to remain active in civic and community programs. He is Chairman of the Board of Overseers for the University of Connecticut’s school of Business Administration; a board member of the Transportation Center for Northwestern University; a board member for the Washington Trustees of the Federal City Council; a board member of SS&C Technologies, Inc.; a board member of the American Institute for Contemporary German Studies; and a member of the Committee on Economic Development’s Board of Trustees.

A native of Boston, Massachusetts, Mr. Schofield holds a bachelor’s degree from the University of Connecticut. He resides with his wife, Beverly, in Clifton, Virginia.
